

In memory of my loving father, Nicholas George Moore, without whose support the research and writing of this book would not have been possible. Also, to my mother Marie and my brother Paul, who have been so understanding over the course of my writing. And finally, to the Messiah Jesus, who is my best friend, for comfort and guidance.